Lockheed Loan Approved; Simply
No Alternative

By the smallest possible margin, 49 to 48, the United States Senate Monday approved a $250-million loan from the federal government to Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

A major defense arms supplier, Lockheed claimed that without government aid it would be forced to take bankruptcy.

At the particular moment Lockheed is delayed in the delivery of the L-101 TriStar airbus. Deliveries of the airbus were held up by the collapse of Rolls-Royce, Ltd., England, which was to furnish the engines.

The British had been helping Rolls-Royce, but were threatening to end their support unless the U.S. came to the aid of Lockheed.

Considering the fantastic cost of the giant airbus any delay of delivery could easily put even such a financial giant as Lockheed into deep trouble. The story seemed entirely credible to this writer.

It did not seem so, however, to the two Arkansas senators, McClellan and Fulbright—both of whom voted against the loan.

I can only presume the senators have vastly more knowledge of the case than your editor. Nevertheless I so thoroughly distrust the promises of government I can't help but give contractors who do business with the federal the benefit of the doubt. It seemed to me the clutch issue was whether or not to save a major arms producer.

The only alternative would be for the government to go into manufacture of its own planes.

A conservative view would be to stick with the people who make it their business to build planes and other arms.

Heavy Rains Flood Some State Areas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Heavy rains this morning in Central Arkansas caused flooding in low-lying areas of Little Rock and North Little Rock, forcing some residents in North Little Rock to flee their homes.

North Little Rock police said city firemen were using boats to evacuate residents from the Silver City Courts, and water was reported to be emptying into houses in the area through windows.

No injury or major damage has been reported.

Dozens of intersections in Little Rock were reported flooded. Police in North Little Rock said streets were flooded throughout the city.

Rainfall was widespread over the state this morning, but the heavy rains were confined mainly to the southern two-thirds of the state. The National Weather Service forecast a chance of showers and thunderstorms through tonight.

Rain moved into southern areas of the state by early afternoon Monday and continued through the night.

In a one-hour period this morning, Little Rock received 1.80 inches of rain, bringing the total rainfall since midnight to 3.07 inches.

The Weather Service said residents along Rock and Fourche creeks in western and south-western Little Rock should be on alert for rapid rises of those streams and be prepared to move to higher ground.

Youths Enter Plea of Guilty

Guilty was the plea entered today by the three youthful defendants charged with malicious mischief in connection with the July 21 vandalism of a watermelon patch on the Lester Kent farm near Palmos.

Municipal Court Judge John Wilson has postponed sentencing until Aug. 10. The youths, Charles Philip Butler, 17, Terry Don Nicholas, 17, and Tony Ken Gibson, 15, face fines of up to $200 and/or up to one year in jail.

Senate Votes New Life for Lockheed

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican who kept the White House guessing and a Montana Democrat who changed his mind at the last minute cast key votes as the Senate squeezed through a $250-million loan guarantee for Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

In a Senate chamber hushed with tension, Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., rose at his desk, took a slow sip from a glass of water, and answered "aye" to break a 48-48 deadlock.

Until that moment Monday afternoon, not even the White House men who courted Cook and other doubtful GOP senators had been certain of the outcome in one of the closest

Man Thinks Fondly of 1st Childhood, Looks Forward to Second One

By HALE BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

If a man lives long enough, he often goes through two childhoods. In his mature middle years he looks back and fondly idealizes his first childhood; he looks forward apprehensively to his second childhood. In a way this is unrealistic, because of his two childhoods the second is far less likely to be painful.

If human nature isn't inherently combative and contentious, why is it that when one person announces what time it is, everybody else is hearing distance looks at his own watch to see how wrong the other fellow was?

U.S. Support to Red China Also Injects New Complications

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The U.S. decision to support Red China's admission to the United Nations should assure ample votes to seat Peking in the world organization this fall, but it also injects new complications.

The view is widely held at U.N. headquarters that the two-Chinas solution the United States is urging is not practical because of Peking's vehement opposition, even if the Chinese Nationalists could be persuaded to accept it.

Some U.N. diplomats predict that Peking will not send a delegation to the United Nations if the General Assembly backs the U.S. effort to prevent expulsion of the Nationalists.

Delegates among those sponsoring the resolution to seat Peking hinted that they might withdraw the proposal if the United States is able to block the ouster of the Nationalists.

"It wouldn't be our resolution," one of the sponsoring diplomats said. "We wouldn't accept it."

If the proposal, known as the Albanian resolution, were withdrawn, others could be introduced, of course. Japan, for example, has circulated some suggested drafts, all of them based on the idea of two Chinas.

U.N. diplomats disagree as to whether the United States can succeed in getting the assembly to separate the expulsion of the Nationalists from the seating of the Communists and to determine that the expulsion is an "important question" requiring a two-thirds majority.

Secretary of Labor J.D. Hodgson said the agreement included provisions allowing the railroads to change work rules for greater efficiency. This, he said, would help offset some of the costs of the pay hike. The precise nature of the changes will be worked out by each line with disputes submitted to a three-member board.

The United Transportation Union ordered its picket lines down at noon Monday after agreeing on a new contract settlement granting about 190,000 trainmen $1.50 hourly payhikes over 42 months.

Bombers Wipe Out Enemy Held Villages

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and U.S. helicopters virtually wiped out two enemy-held villages in eastern Cambodia today in a raging, day-long battle.

Rangers attacking the villages were held up by intense enemy rocket, machine-gun and small-arms fire, losing two killed and eight wounded, field reports said.

Then South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships were called in. Associated Press photographer Huyen Cong Ut, with the rangers, said the villages were left in flames after the fighter-bombers unloaded canisters of napalm.

Witnesses said Cambodian civilians had long fled the villages.

By dusk, the rangers had seized one of the villages and the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were reported fleeing under the heavy pounding by bombers and helicopter gunships.

The fighting swirled in flatlands in the Parrot's Beak sector of Cambodia, south of Highway 1, the Saigon to Phnom Penh route.

A 3,500-man South Vietnamese task force is on a sweep aimed at destroying enemy staging areas and curbing infiltration into the Saigon region.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that the United States has increased aerial reconnaissance and electrical censor activity along a 230-mile stretch of the Cambodian border in efforts to check North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam during the coming national elections.

With tons of stranded food, grain, coal, steel and autos on hand, rail officials acted quickly today to get trains rolling following settlement of a strike against 10 railroads.

"We will be handling perishables first, as fast as we can get trains running," said a spokesman at Southern Pacific's headquarters in San Francisco.

"We've spotted refrigerator cars at many points and as soon as they can be loaded we will get trains moving," he added.

The West and Northwest were hard hit by the walkout against 10 lines as tons of perishable foods piled up in California warehouses. In Oregon, the situation appeared more critical where no immediate relief was in sight for lumber and grain producers.

A West Coast dock strike added to the problem in Oregon, where most grain is exported. "As long as the docks are struck the end of the rail strike won't have much effect on wheat exports at all," a spokesman for United Grain Growers reported.

Although Strikes End Problem of Inflation Still Faces Nation

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A last-minute wage agreement has averted a threatened steel strike but it leaves unresolved the problem of how the nation can deal with inflationary expectations.

Unless some miracle of productivity can be achieved—and the steel industry is hardly the one in which miracles may be expected—the agreement will force up prices of numerous manufactured items.

Price increases already have been announced for basic steel. Manufacturers who use steel may be expected to follow with their own.

The three-year, 31 per cent increase comes as no surprise. It follows a pattern. In the first half of the year wage increases for all industries averaged 31.5 cents an hour.

Union leaders, no matter how broadminded, can hardly be expected to seek less than that what they feel is obtainable. To do so, even in the name of

General Price Hike Expected of Steelmakers

By M. W. MINARCIN Jr.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — More steelmakers were expected to follow the lead of U.S. Steel and announce price increases averaging 8 per cent.

The hikes, which apply to almost every kind of raw steel product, seem certain to trigger subsequent price jumps in a wide variety of consumer items ranging from keys to cars, though probably not for at least a few months.

The White House said it was questionable whether the price hikes were in the steel industry's "long run interest," but made no immediate move to force a rollback of the increases.

U.S. Steel, the nation's No. 1 steel producer, said the increases announced Monday were required to offset the near-record cost of the industry's new contract with the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America. The union had accepted the contract, which calls for a 30 per cent pay increase spread over three years barely 12 hours before.

$100 Million Didn't Help Laos Regime

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

A Senate committee staff report says a substantial boost in U.S. aid, including more than $100 million spent last year by the Central Intelligence Agency, has failed to strengthen the government of Laos.

Despite $350 million in aid last year, not including bombing, the report said, most observers in Laos feel "the situation there is growing steadily worse and the initiative seems clearly to be in the hands of the enemy." The number of North Vietnamese and Chinese troops in Laos was reported on the increase.

The report, censored for publication, was issued Monday after five weeks of negotiations between the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the executive branch, including the CIA.

Further details on the situation in Laos are expected Wednesday with publication in the Congressional Record of a declassified transcript of a secret Senate session on Laos held June 7.

Both the report and that session were based on findings of James G. Lowenstein and Richard M. Moore, Foreign Relations staff members who spent 12 days in Laos in late April and early May.

The report shows that, in fiscal 1971, U.S. military aid to Laos was $162.2 million, economic aid was $52 million and the total including CIA backing for Laotian troops was $284.2 million—indicating that part of the CIA operation cost $70 million.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers has put the total non-bombing cost to the United States at $350 million and committee sources said most of the $65.8 million additional was for CIA support of Thai troops in Laos.

In fiscal 1972 which began July 1, military assistance is due to go up by $90 million to $252.2 million, the report said.

Despite heavy casualties, North Vietnamese troop strength rose from about 40,000 in March 1968 to 100,000 in April 1971, while native Pathet Lao Communist forces dropped from 51,645 to about 39,000, the report said.

Youth Drowns in Motel Pool

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—Konald Smith, 14, of Pine Bluff drowned Monday evening in a swimming pool at a Harrison motel.

Boone County Sheriff Loy Green said the youth, son of Mrs. Mary Alice Smith of Pine Bluff, was on a vacation trip with a sister, a brother and some friends. Green said the youth failed to surface after jumping off a diving board. The body's body was recovered in 8½ feet of water.

New Postal Service Is in Trouble

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Only a month old, the U.S. Postal Service is getting into the kind of financial trouble that convinced Congress to replace the old Post Office Department with the new, streamlined agency.

Postal officials now expect costs to run some $430 million above available funds this year, and are looking either to mailers, taxpayers or perhaps to both to make up the difference. Contributing to the red-ink forecast for fiscal 1972 are the $1-billion-plus, two-year contract signed with postal unions last month and a smaller-than-expected appropriation from Congress.

Postal officials admit they're faced with a dilemma they haven't yet decided how to handle. But figuring they have put in all the cost-saving reforms possible at this time, they say there is only one way to make ends meet: get more money.

And there are only two sources of money: from the mailing public through further rate increases, or from the taxpayer through a supplemental appropriation from Congress.

Rates were increased by $1.45 billion on a temporary basis last May 16, and the Postal Service is dickering with the Postal Rate Commission to make the rates permanent.

Although the postal-reorganization legislation that became fully effective July 1 envisioned a self-sustaining Postal Service eventually, it provided for decreasing deficits to be made up by congressional appropriations. But Congress lopped $430.2 million off the total subsidy request of more than $1.5 billion.

Then on July 20, after a full sixth month of negotiating with the seven recognized postal unions, the Postal Service agreed to a contract that will add $1 billion to $1.1 billion to its wage costs over two years, including $650 million to $700 million this fiscal year.

In an effort to cut short hearings on the permanent rate proposal, which have dragged on since May 17, the Postal Service last week promised mail users a moratorium on further rate increases until July 1, 1972, if they would accept the rate package as proposed.

The Postal Service's financial boss, Senior Assistant Postmaster General James W. Hargrove, told the mailers the service would seek the full $430 million from taxpayers if a deal could be made.

The mailers are scheduled to give Hargrove their answer Thursday, but neither the Postal Service nor the mailers is optimistic that a bargain can be struck.

Senate Told Eagles Are Slaughtered

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

A Wyoming pilot has told the Senate that sheep ranchers, fearful for the newborn lambs, have hired airborne gunmen to slaughter hundreds of golden and bald eagles.

Federal officials immediately sought prosecution of those responsible.

James O. Vogan Monday told the Senate environmental appropriations subcommittee he piloted a helicopter on eagle hunts last winter and saw more than 560 eagles killed.

He said gunmen would slay up to 34 eagles a day, piling their bodies high as a haystack. He said he never killed any himself.

Vogan testified under immunity from prosecution, arranged by subcommittee chairman Gale McGee, D-Wyo. Later in the day Interior Secretary Roger C.B. Morton, calling the alleged killings a "national outrage," said evidence had been gathered and would be sent to the Justice Department.

Bald eagles, the vanishing symbol of America, are protected by law. Permits for hunting golden eagles may only be granted if a state governor swears they are a threat to stock, and no such permits have been issued since January 1970.

McGee kept Vogan's testimony secret until the hearing was under way so as not to jeopardize evidence searches at the same hour in Wyoming by Interior Department agents. A subcommittee aide said Vogan knew where the eagle carcasses were buried.

Vogan said his boss, Doyle Vaughn, owner of Buffalo Flying Service at Buffalo, Wyo., told him and a gunner that he had a permit to kill eagles because they ate newborn sheep.

Ranchers paid Vaughn $25 a head for dead eagles and between $10 and $50 for coyotes, he said. But gunmen killed so many eagles at a time that the ranchers changed the fee to a flat $80 a day.

A McGee aide said Western ranchers cling to an almost mythical conviction that eagles prey on stock. The Audubon Society disputes this and says that bitter weather kills far more lambs than do coyotes, and that eagles usually appear only to eat the carion.

The bald eagle, the country's national bird, has long been protected by law but still is vanishing.

The Audubon Society testified at a June probe by McGee's committee into poisoning of 23 eagles at Jackson Hole, Wyo., that 1,000 mating pairs of bald eagles exist in the United States. Many spend winters in the remote and rugged mountains of Wyoming. The society has no count on golden eagles.

statesmanship, would be to break faith with their members.

The parallel situation for the steel companies is whether they should, for the good of the country, refrain from raising prices or, because of their obligations to shareholders, protect their profits.

Suggesting that the answer hardly perplexed them was the speed with which U.S. Steel announced an 8 per cent increase for most products less than 24 hours after signing an agreement with the steelworkers.

George Meany, AFL-CIO head, has suggested that the only way to free business and labor from such decisions is to toss the ball to the President.

Many economists also have been clamoring for strong presidential leadership on the wage-price battlefront, perhaps in the form of an incomes policy.

Such a policy could involve a formula which labor and industry could use in determining permissible, noninflationary increases. It could involve a wage-price review board. At its extreme, it might include a freeze on wages and prices.

In the absence of such a policy, it seems reasonable to assume that the only possibility of a union or an industry foregoing an increase would be if it believed inflation was being licked.

Broyles Advises to Stake Your Life on God

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — University of Arkansas football coach Frank Broyles told a conference of 380 coaches and athletes here Monday that "in life as in football, the line is drawn. One side is God. The other side the un-God."

Broyles, who made his remarks at the third annual Michigan Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) summer conference, said: "I've seen many results of young men staying and fighting—staying on God's side."

"The sooner you bet your life on God," he said, "the sooner you will receive the faith needed for fighting what seems to be impossible odds."

Broyles is on the FCA's board of directors and is a past president of the Team Football Coaches Association.

Attending the week-long conference were coaches and athletes from Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Dozen Blacks Picket Oak Grove School

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About a dozen black youths, all members of Black United Youth, picketed in front of Oak Grove High School near here Monday.

A spokesman for the group said the youths were protesting an appearance in North Little Rock Municipal Court by the school's principal, Jack Schrader. Schrader was subpoenaed to testify on behalf of a white youth who had been arrested in connection with a shooting incident involving a Negro girl. The incident occurred about three weeks ago.

The demonstrators, who said they were students or former students at the school, also were protesting alleged exclusion of blacks from school organizations and "unfair" grading systems in the school.

The pickets were removed after school administrators agreed to consider the grievances and after it was learned that Schrader was subpoenaed and did not testify voluntarily.

high-stakes battles staged in the Senate.

In the end, it was the sudden support of Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., that along with Cook's vote, helped swing the decision. Metcalf told a Nixon lobbyist as he left the Senate floor: "I came over here resolved to vote against it. But I'm not going to be the one responsible for defeating it."

Lockheed, the nation's No. 1 defense contractor, had said it might go bankrupt without government backing for another $250 million in private bank loans for its troubled TriStar jet airbus.

The Nixon administration had led the hard lobbying battle for the bill, with aid from Lockheed, its corporate allies, the banks, and the biggest union at the aerospace company.

"The closeness of this vote, the fact that it passed only 49-48, is remarkable in view of the pressures that were brought on senators," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., leader of the anti-Lockheed forces.

Cook said he got his first call Monday at 8:10 a.m. from White House lobbyist Clark MacGregor and told him he hadn't made up his mind. Nixon aide Peter M. Flanagan came to his office later to chat with Cook and got the same reply.

Cook left the floor to talk to a Senate staffer when the roll call began. At first, the count ran 40 to 34 against Lockheed. A tide of late votes, including Metcalf's, brought it to 48-48 when Cook, the last man, stood at his desk.

The white-haired, portly Louisville lawyer said the drama was accidental: "I got caught in that position."

First recognized transportation routes west were established in 1847 when the Mormons migrated to Utah.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper. SISTER DOESN'T NEED SNOBBISHNESS

Dear Helen: My 15-year-old sister was dating a 25-year-old man and got pregnant. So they had to get married, but they divorced in four months.

My sister wants to start school again in the fall, but to tell the truth I'll be very ashamed being in the same school with her. Isn't there a different kind of school she can go to? Like one for divorced mothers?—SHAMED Dear Shamed:

Your sister made a mistake and paid for it. She doesn't need the added burden of snobbery! Help her make a comeback, for heavens' sake—by accepting her into your life and school trouble. Don't promote more by hitting the "shame" button!—H.

Dear Helen: This summer a bunch of neighborhood kids got together and started building a park on county land. (The county said "go ahead," but couldn't furnish much money.) We scrounged an old pump and got water from the river, planted grass and trees, and it's beginning to look great already.

Now we want to add a playground for little kids, and maybe by next year we can help underprivileged children from the inner city get some fresh air.

We heard there's an award program for teenage summer projects and if your group wins, it gets several thousand dollars. This would really get our park going, as already a lot of people are interested enough to come down and help. Could you tell us more about trying for a prize?—THE GROUP

Dear Group:

Manpower, Inc., 820 N. Plankinton Ave., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 53203, awards cash prizes for outstanding teen projects in its SUMMER ACTION PROGRAM. The nationwide competition, designed to "spur community betterment through creative action by young people," offers a first prize of $3,000, second and third prizes of $2,000 and $1,000 respectively, and 40 $100 merit awards.

Only persons 21 years old or under are eligible, and entries must be in before September 15, 1971. For further information and registration forms, write to Summer Action Program, at the above address.

Good luck!—H

Dear Helen: When you hear career women (usually show business types) on TV talk shows, they almost always come on strong about "marriage is obsolete," "live with him but don't marry him," etc. The few who are married indicate they'd just as soon have it the other way, and almost no one any more expects marriage to be forever. Movies and books also downgrade the institution.

Yet people are still getting hitched. The median age of brides is still under 21. Girls in high school don't aim for careers except as insurance ("in case I'm not lucky in love"). And they aren't anticipating divorce.

We've got two different breeds here: Females who talk, write, and "act" against marriage, giving the impression it's out of style. And then we have all the eager kids (and older people too) looking to get licenses.

So what does it all prove?—STUDENT OF HUMAN NATURE

Dear Student: ...Simply that the outspoken "New-thought" people are heard, read, and watched, but the great majority of listeners and observers remain fascinated but unswayed.

As I've said before, it usually takes three generations to effect sweeping social change—and by that time, we may have started swinging in the other direction.—H.

P.S. Webster-definition "swinging," that is.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star.

To err is no longer human. That attribute belongs to the computer.

Princess Anne to Try for Olympics

By DONALD FORBES
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — For the moment, it looks as if horses are more important than men in Princess Anne's life.

The daughter of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip will be 21 Aug. 15.

She is sometimes called the world's most eligible blonde, but her main aim right now is to ride in the Olympics next year.

Anne began riding at 3 and has loved horses all through her youth. For three years she has been training intensely in jumping.

Allison Oliver, her coach, comments: "Even if her name was Anne Bloggs, I would say that she is good enough to ride for Britain in top international events."

Officials say that if she is selected for the nation's equestrian team it will be on the basis of her ability, not her blue blood.

Anne lives in a goldfish bowl. British publications record her merest frown or gaffe.

The treatment can upset boy-friends. The princess went to see the musical "Hair" with London sugar broker Sandy Harper, 22. She made headlines by jumping on-stage to dance with the cast.

Harper later dropped out of view because, friends said, of the strain of squiring a princess who is constantly under reporters' eyes.

Another friend is 32-year-old Richard Meade, an equestrian gold medalist for Britain in the 1968 Olympics.

Anne once said that she might just fall in love at first sight. Her aunt Princess Margaret wed photographer Tony Armstrong Jones—now Lord Snowdon—so the idea of marrying someone not of royal blood is no novelty.

One betting man who knows Anne and the royal family observes: "If she gets into the 1972 Olympic team, she might

Urchins Killed to Save Seaweed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scuba divers say they killed about 800,000 purple sea urchins in a project designed to make the sea safe for seaweed.

Ecologists say man created a seaweed shortage in the Pacific off Southern California by killing too many sea otters, which live on urchins. The urchins multiplied unhindered and have eaten most of the kelp that is the habitat of many other marine creatures.

"There's nothing down there any more but the urchins," said one diver. "They've driven away the abalone and the lobster and just about everything."

Alarmed conservationists started the Palos Verdes Underwater Restoration Project, which began operations Sunday with nearly 1,000 volunteer divers on hand armed with hammers and hatchets.

well be married within two years. If not, she will put aside all thoughts of matrimony till after the 1976 Olympics."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With a little more than a month until the new television season starts, it is ulcer-making and nail-biting time around the networks and the big film studios.

Once the stepchild of the film industry, television today dominates it and is keeping many of the big studios going. Fewer than 10 theatrical films are in local production while more than 110 television series, movies-for-TV and specials are in the works.

Actors and actresses who once ignored if not scorned the young medium have become available—for series, for guest shots, and for leads in the filmed features the medium calls "movies."

Production of fall shows is proceeding full steam, but no-body knows whether he has a hit or a disaster until it is much too late to do anything about it.

Those involved in returning series, especially series coming back in new times periods, are as uptight as the newcomers. Can "Mod Squad" buck the new, tough competition from Glen Campbell and "Ironside"? Will the early Wednesday evening audience—more youngsters—love Carol Burnett as much as the late viewers did on Monday?

There is considerable evidence that a few people believe this is a season to be bold and experimental. Money is tight, cigarette sponsors have departed and each network has, by federal order, lost a valuable half hour of evening prime time.

Variety shows have succumbed to last season's overexposure, and the wheel has turned so that law-and-order shows and situation comedies—escape and relaxation—are once again in style.

"Relevancy," which was last season's favorite word, is out of television's 1971-72 vocabulary. Gone with it are those overdone themes of disaffected youth, environment and drugs. What kind of season will it be? Nobody really knows, but it's safe to say that few series or even specials will be controversial.

Johnny Carson, relaxing on his flight to Hollywood for three weeks of NBC's "Tonight Show," said that his first West Coast show on each visit is like an opening night.

"I like that, I need that," he said at a point about six miles above the Grand Canyon. "The shift makes it a different show. It keeps you fresh—that is also why I like playing Vegas."

"People are always asking me what I really want to do. They never seem to believe me when I say that I'm doing what I really want to do."

Carson's contract—reputedly with a pay-off of around $1 million a year—recently was extended through 1972 by his network, reason enough to feel relaxed and happy.

Lord, grant that I may always desire more than I can accomplish.—Michelangelo.

NAACP Tries to Disrupt Tennis Meet

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The demonstrators who tried to disrupt play in the U.S. Pro Tennis Championships Monday night didn't have too much luck—South African Fred McMillan was concentrating too hard to bother about them, and top-seeded John Newcombe was too busy making sure lightning didn't strike twice.

McMillan was the target of the NAACP-sponsored hecklers, who turned out at Longwood to protest the appearance of three South Africans in the $50,000 tournament. Both he and Newcombe, however, said they had too much else on their minds to bother about the yelling and booing.

"I concentrate so hard when I'm playing that I really don't hear very much from the crowd," said McMillan, who played well at times despite losing as expected to the three-time Wimbledon champion from Australia, 6-3, 6-2.

There were only about 30 demonstrators on hand for the match instead of the 300 or so who had been promised by the Boston chapter of the NAACP. They cheered loudly for Newcombe's good shots and yelled and booed when McMillan was serving in an effort to disturb him, but to no apparent effect.

Most of them also carried signs denouncing South Africa's apartheid policies and claiming that Longwood and others connected with the tournament were contributing to "racism" by permitting white South Africans to play in American tournaments while that country prevents blacks from competing as individuals in its events.

In addition to Newcombe, all of the other top players who saw action Monday advanced to the second round. Second-seeded Arthur Ashe of Miami defeated Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia, 6-4, 6-3, and ninth-seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain eliminated Torbin Ulrich of Denmark, 6-1, 6-1.

Eleventh-seeded John Alexander of Australia overcame Graham Sliwell of Great Britain, 6-1, 7-6, and 12th-seeded Bob Lutz of Los Angeles whipped Fred Stolle of Australia, 6-3, 6-4.

In battles of unseeded players, Ismail El Shafel of the United Arab Republic turned back Ron Holmberg of West Point, N.Y., 6-3, 6-2, and Roger Taylor of Great Britain defeated Roy Barth of San Diego, 6-2, 6-2.

The rest of the first round matches are scheduled today and tonight. One of the top contests sends five-time former champion Rod Laver, who is fourth-seeded this year, against fellow Australian Dick Crealy. And the top South African player—third-seeded Cliff Drysdale—meets Ray Ruffels of Australia in a match which is expected to produce another protest demonstration.

TURLOCK, Calif. (AP) — The Medic Alert Foundation is preparing to add an oakleaf cluster to the award it presented Ron Hunt last year.

Hunt, the Montreal Expos' infielder, received a MHP Most Hit by Pitcher trophy last season when he was with the San Francisco Giants. He broke a National League career record for getting hit pitches.

Now Hunt, is closing in on a National League season record. He recently tied the record of 31, set by Louis Evans of St. Louis in 1910.

Anatomy of Vikings' Front Four

By PAT THOMPSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — While the other Minnesota Vikings busily worked up a sweat, a half dozen uniformed giants stood off by themselves and talked with defensive line Coach Jack Patera.

The Vikings' front four, the Purple People Eaters, are getting ready for another National Football League season.

Last year, the tandem of ends Carl Eller—Jim Marshall and tackles Gary Larsen—Alan Page dumped opposing quarterbacks 49 times and led Minnesota's devastating defense that allowed only 143 points and only 14 touchdowns, a regular season NFL record.

The famed front four is a composite of adventurer-parachutist-mountain climber Marshall; former Marine-insurance man Larsen; prospective actor Eller, and salesman-drag racer Page.

Patera, a Bismarck, N.D., native who played at the University of Oregon and seven years in the NFL before turning to coaching, provided thumbnail sketches of the foursome.

CARL ELLER, 29, 6-6, 247: "Carl's got the kind of stature you want as a defensive end. He's got the height, speed, quickness. He continually wants to improve although he's recognized as one of the best defensive ends in football."

GARY LARSEN, 31, 6-5, 261: "A big strong football player. What he lacks that Carl has is great mobility. He's agile. Pretty quick as far as reactions to the ball and reaction to the blockers. People have described him as a type of policeman which is not true."

ALAN PAGE, 26, 6-4, 245: "Alan is much more mobile than Gary—makes more plays in pursuit. But he's not quite as strong at the point of attack. He's more of a slasher, which is kind of strange in a defensive tackle."

American Conference: Eastern Division
BUFFALO BILLS

PROSPECTUS—Nowheresville for this club under present setup. That doesn't mean Bills are hopeless—not with super talents such as O. J. (Simpson, of course), Dennis Shaw, rookie J. D. Hill, rookie Jan White. But they've lost 42 games in four years and no sign evident that the organization, from the top down, is organized. Which makes it tough on over-all morale.

Offense

PASSING — Shaw made rookie of year. He's cocky, aggressive. But there are those in pro ball who're still not convinced about his basic passing ability. Say he hangs ball up for too many intercepts (20 last year). James Harris still bidding as first black regular QB. Rating—B.

RUNNING — Some suspicion that Simpson's knee injury wasn't as minor as stated. But he skipped knife, which is good sign. No reason he shouldn't be among league's foremost—if they open holes for him. Wide open for running mate, though Wayne Patrick's got the bulk. Rating—B+.

RECEIVING — Super, now that White's on scene to fill tight end spot. Gonna even be problem on how to get rookie Hill, Haven Moses and league-leading grabber Marlin Brisco on field at same time. Hill will be valuable as kick returner, too. Only flaw is inexplicable way Moses tailed off last year. Rating—A-.

LINE — Hodgepodge. Bills of old title days were built on big, strong men up front. Pro football being what it is, these are still big—but don't match up strength and agility. And speed, of which there's noticeable lack. Closest thing to solid guy is guard Joe O'Donnell. Rating—C-.

Defense

LINE — Ex-coach Johnny Rauch's passing parade depleted this sector, too. Latest to go was Ron McDole, who's been all-AFL class for several years. Al Cowlings moves over to left end; O.J.'s boyhood playmate is pure class. And tackle Jim Dunaway knows the ropes. But the other two spots go down definite notch in talent. Rating—C+.

LINEBACKING — It'll help if Mike Stratton (Achilles tendon surgery) is O.K. He's one of few links with championship days, a versatile performer and leader on right side. Edgar Chandler's developing into good middle man, and Paul Guidry has become competent strong side defender. So they're in pretty good shape—if Stratton is. Rating—B.

SECONDARY — Two guys don't need any apologies. Butch Byrd is one of the steady corner backs in the league, the whole league. He's smart and solid. John Pitts is a menacing figure, at 6-4, as the strong safety. Bills obviously felt they need more help back there because they traded for Alvin Wyatt of Oakland. Like looks of swift rookie Tim Beamer, too. Rating—B-.

KICKING — Grant Guthrie, last year's placekicker, returns, but they're looking for punter to replace Paul Maguire. Rating—B-.

Dodgers 5-4 Over Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Steve Garvey riddled a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning, giving Los Angeles Dodgers a comeback 5-4 triumph over the San Francisco Giants Monday night.

Garvey's blast came off Steve Hamilton, 1-2, the second Giants' reliever of the inning, and followed singles by Willie Davis and Willie Crawford.

The homer, Garvey's fifth of the season, wiped out a 4-2 San Francisco lead built on a four-run seventh inning keyed by Dick Dietz' homer and Alan Gallagher's two-run triple.

The Dodgers held a 1-0 lead, on Richie Allen's fifth-inning homer, until the Giants teed off on Dodger left-hander Claude Osteen and reliever Jim Brewer, with five straight hits in the seventh.

The Dodgers scored their second run on Joe Ferguson's eighth-inning homer, his second of the year.

Catholics 11-1 Over Hope C of C

In Monday night's Christian Athletic Association softball action, Catholics ran over the Hope Church of Christ 11 to 1. John Henley hit two homers for the Catholics.

In the second game, First Assembly defeated Liberty Baptist 13 to 11. There were no homers in that game.

LA May Get Explosive in August

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a quiet July for the Los Angeles Dodgers. But, hold on, they're rolling out the Guns of August.

After a mediocre month during which they lost ground to the San Francisco Giants in the National League West, the Dodgers are starting out explosively in August.

They opened with a 5-4 triumph over Cincinnati Sunday, then blasted three homers for a comeback 5-4 success over the Giants Monday night.

"We've won a lot like that, we've got to lose some, too," said a philosophical Charlie Fox, the Giants' manager who watched a two-run lead slip away in the ninth inning when Steve Garvey unloaded a two-out, three-run homer.

The Giants, who had taken advantage of the Dodgers' 13-16 won-lost record in July to build a nine-game lead by the first of August, dropped their cushion to eight as a result of Monday night's loss.

In the other National League games, the Houston Astros nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1; the Cincinnati Reds stopped the New York Mets 4-2; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the Atlanta Braves 4-0 and the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the San Diego Padres 3-1.

American League results: New York 7, Cleveland 0; Boston 7, Baltimore 4; Oakland 2, Kansas City 1; Chicago 7, Minnesota 5; Detroit 11, Washington 7 and California 3, Milwaukee 1.

The San Francisco loss was even more painful to Fox because of his late-inning maneuvering which proved the Giants' undoing. Fox lifted Jerry Johnson with two out and a man on first and brought in the second reliever of the inning, southpaw Steve Hamilton, to pitch to left-handed Willie Crawford.

It backfired—Crawford singled, then Garvey clinched it.

Garvey's homer wiped out a 4-2 San Francisco lead built on a four-run seventh featuring Dick Dietz' leadoff home run and Alan Gallagher's two-run triple.

The Dodgers held a 1-0 lead, on Richie Allen's fifth-inning round-tripper, until the Giants teed off on left-hander Claude Osteen and ace reliever Jim Brewer in the seventh.

Joe Ferguson's eighth-inning homer gave Los Angeles its second run and preceded the last-inning fireworks.

Don Wilson outdueled Ferguson Jenkins with a two-hitter as Houston beat Chicago. Wilson allowed a single by Paul Popovich in the second inning and lost his shutout on Jim Hickman's two-out home run in the fourth.

The Astros scored twice in the second for the deciding runs off the Cubs' ace right-hander. Denis Menke doubled for one run and scored on Jesus Alou's single.

Johnny Bench knocked in three runs with a double and single and Lee May snapped a tie with a leadoff homer in the ninth to pace Cincinnati over New York.

Bench's two-run double in the first produced a 2-0 Reds' lead until the Mets tied it on run-scoring doubles by Tommie Agee and Cleon Jones in the sixth. Then May riddled his tie-breaking clout in the ninth and Bench later knocked in Tony Perez, who had tripled.

Deron Johnson and Roger Freed blasted consecutive home runs in a three-run fourth and Rick Wise spaced 11 hits in the Philadelphia success.

With one out in the fourth, Johnson slammed his 25th homer and Freed followed with his fourth. Don Money later singled, stole second and scored on a single by John Vukovich. The shutout was Wise's fourth

WILLIE STARGELL has always had a home run hitter's physique, but this season the 6-foot-2½, 215-pound Pirate outfielder has acquired the statistics to go with the appearance, dominating the National League homer and runs batted in races.

Harrelson Attempting Pro Golf

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Is baseball or golf the hardest?

Ken Harrelson, after his first brush with pro golf, hedged his answer.

"It's really too early to tell," said the man who quit the Cleveland Indians in mid-season, left a $75,000 yearly salary for the rigors of pro golf.

Harrelson ran into putting problems in his first competitive round, double bogeying the last hole Monday for a four-over-par 76 in the $20,000 Little American Golf Classic, a PGA satellite event.

"I do know the toughest thing in sports to do is to hit a moving baseball," said Harrelson, who hit 35 of them out of the park for Boston's 1968 American League pennant winners.

"In golf, you got to keep your cool all of the time. If you make an out in baseball, you may have 40 minutes before you hit again," said the 29-year-old Harrelson.

Harrelson did a lot of things pro golf tourists wouldn't think of during a round. He signed autographs, bantered with writers, telling them what club he used.

"I love people. I'm glad I'm in golf, they're closer to you," he said. "I must have signed 200 autographs during the round. It doesn't bother me."

"I see some pros hit bad shots and blame the gallery. They should take better care of their followers. Sign autographs. Why do you think Lee Trevino has such a big following?"

It didn't bother Harrelson that he was seven shots behind leaders Ted Hayes of Atlanta, Bobby Cole of South Africa and Dean Refram of Boca Raton, Fla., who shot three-under-par 69s over the 7,110-yard Firestone North layout.

"I'm going to shoot 68 or 69 tomorrow. I feel super. My putting was just horrible. I can hit the ball with anybody here," Harrelson said.

The mod-dressing Harrelson three-putted Nos. 1, 7 and 17 for three of his five bogeys to go with three birdies and the double bogey. He took some gambles, too, and got away with them.

Champ Won't Defend Her Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Court of Australia who scored a grand slam of tennis with her women's singles victory at Forest Hills last fall, won't defend her U.S. Open title next month.

She's pregnant. Mrs. Court's retirement from competitive tennis to await the arrival of her first child in early March brought to three the number of top women players bypassing the Open.

Ann Jones of England announced her retirement earlier this year because of pregnancy and Evonne Goolagong, the 19-year-old Australian who beat Mrs. Court at Wimbledon, is being kept out of the competition by her coach, Vic Edwards, who said she wasn't ready for the center court at Forest Hills.

Mrs. Court and her husband, Barry, announced her retirement at a news conference in New York Monday.

"I was told not to play competitively and I won't be at Forest Hills in September," said the 29-year-old tennis queen who with Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., had virtually dominated the game in recent years.

Mrs. Court, who captured Wimbledon and the Australian, French and U.S. Open crowns in 1970, to become the first grand slam winner since Maureen Connolly in 1953, said of her feat:

"I've fulfilled all my dreams in tennis."

However, she said after the arrival of the baby she would return to the sport.

Yanks Have 33 Medals in Pan Am

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CALI, Colombia (AP) — Rick Wanamaker, trim as a javelin and hard as a shotput, day-dreams of joining legendary USA decathlon names like Mathias, Johnson and Toomey. Suddenly, it's no longer fantasy for the 6-foot-8 Iowan. Now, it's a budding reality.

Wanamaker smashed an international field Monday night in the 10-event grind at the VI Pan American Games as the United States began to get some air in the war for medals with Castro's Cuba.

The Yanks go into today's competition with 33 medals including 13 golds, 12 silvers and eight bronze. Cuba's red-clad troops have 28 in all with six golds, 14 silvers and eight bronze.

Canada ranks third, but well behind with 16 including five gold medals, most of the first places being produced by a strong women's track delegation from the northland.

Wanamaker's 36-hour heroics ended with a giant thud, but it hardly mattered since the 23-year-old Des Moines boy knew the prestigious title was in the red, white and blue sack.

The handsome 215-pounder loafed home last in the 1,500-meter run, refusing to extend his exhaustion from a brilliant two days in the 60,000-seat Pascual Guerrero Stadium.

"The decathlon has always been my first sports love," smiled Rick. "But, I went to Drake University on a basketball scholarship and that was a 12-month-a-year proposition."

Wanamaker practiced the decathlon events seldom before graduation last year, but a year of steady work paid off with a 7,648-point total that far outdid American Russ Hodge of Los Angeles, who had 7,314.

Cuba's Jesus Mirabal, who won the first two decathlon tests Sunday, held on for third with 7,295 and Mexico's Roberto Carmona had 6,706.

Wanamaker won five of the events—high jump, pole vault, discus, hurdles and javelin—and stacked up high point totals in every trial before enjoying a "joy ride" in the closing 1,300 meters.

Americans also swept the 5-600-meter run with 5-foot-9 Oregon boys Steve Prefontaine and Steve Stageberg running 1-2 before a cheering throng.

Prefontaine's time of 13:52.5
was five seconds off the Pan-Am record set in 1967 by the USA's Van Arthur Nelson, but the kid from Coos Bay was never pushed.

Another of the 1-2 sweeps by the USA came in the shot put with Allan Feuerbach of Los Angeles heaving the 16-pound ball 64 feet, 10 inches to outdo teammate Karl Salb of Lawrence, Kan., who did 62-8.

Canada's Debbie Brill leaped an amazing 6 feet, 6-8 inches to smash the Pan Am high jump record of 5-10 set four years ago at Winnipeg by the USA's Eleanor Montgomery.

Miss Brill, an 18-year-old student from Haney, British Columbia, took a shot at the world record of 6-3 3/4, but missed.

USA speedster Iris Davis, a Tennessee State graduate from Pompano Beach, Fla., flashed to a record 11.2 clocking in the 100-meter dash to give the Americans hope for another gold today. The old mark was 11.5 shared by former USA he-roines Barbara Jones, Edith McGuire and Barbara Ferrell.

Linda Jo Metheny of Tuscola, Ill., winner of five golds at the Winnipeg extravaganza, was upset in the over-all gymnastics competition by teammate Roxanne Pierce of Kensington, Md.

The statusque 16-year-old high school junior led a 1-2-3 rout by the United States as Miss Metheny, 23, took the silver medal and Kimberly Chace, 15, of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., the bronze.

The USA also won the team title in gymnastics with Cuba second and a band of unhappy Canadians third. Canada charged that scorers had favored the Cubans, who have received strong support from onlookers during the Western Hemisphere sports carnival.

One bleak spot for the Americans was on Lake Camila, about 180 miles from the main games site at Cali. Argentina completed a first-time-ever Pan Am shutout for the USA by taking the eight-man event.

In weightlifting, the Monday hero was little Manuel Mateos of Mexico, who lifted a total of 770 pounds to grab three gold medals and a bronze in the bantamweight division.

The USA baseball team faces a crucial test with favored Cuba today, its only shot at the islanders during the round-robin play. Both teams are unbeaten and Arizona State sophomore Ed Bane will try his luck on the mound for the Yanks.

American basketballers, still red-faced over a 73-69 loss to underdog Cuba, meet Brazil and the loser is almost certain not to make the six-country finals.

Travelers in 1st Place in Division

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers tightened their hold on first place in the Central Division of the Dixie Association by sweeping a doubleheader from the Asheville Tourists Monday night, 4-1 and 6-2.

The double victory gave the Travelers a nine game lead over second-place Shreveport.
The two losses dropped Asheville one-half game behind Charlotte in the Eastern Division race.

The Travelers jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning of the second game when Wayne Dees smashed a bases-loaded home run.

Arkansas was clinging to a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the sixth inning of the first game when Asheville pitcher Jim McDonnell threw wild on a bunt and two runs scored.

In other Dixie Association action, San Antonio beat Amarillo 7-0, Montgomery bombed Memphis 8-2, Savannah edged Charlotte 3-2 and Dallas-Fort Worth whipped Albuquerque 9-3. Columbus and Birmingham split a doubleheader with Columbus winning the first game 1-0 and Birmingham the second 4-3.
Jacksonville at Shreveport was

Boston 7-4 Over Orioles

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Welcome to August and a pennant race ... maybe ... in the American League's East Division.

The first crucial series of the young month opened in Baltimore Monday night and the Boston Red Sox, still hoping to make a run at the Orioles, will remember it if they should go on to catch to elusive Birds.

The Sox were down 4-0 and ripe for the kill in the first inning. But they slipped off the hook as Reggie Smith and Carl Yastrzemski greased the escape route with home runs that produced a 7-4 Boston victory.

Elsewhere in the American League Monday night, Oakland nipped Kansas City 2-1, New York ripped Cleveland 7-0, Chicago knocked off Minnesota 7-5,
Detroit defeated Washington 11-7 and California topped Milwaukee 3-1.

In the National League, Cincinnati trimmed New York 4-2,
Philadelphia shut out Atlanta 4-0, Houston edged Chicago 2-1, St. Louis defeated San Diego 3-1 and Los Angeles edged San Francisco 5-4.

The Orioles, who still lead the East by a comfortable 4 1/2 games, hopped on Boston starter Luis Tiant for four runs in the first on a solo homer by Boog Powell and a three-run shot by Dave Johnson.

The early assault was a mistake for the Orioles because Boston brought Bill Lee in to relieve and he did almost as much damage with his bat as he did with his arm.

Lee, 9-2, beat out three infield hits and drove in Boston's first run with a squeeze bunt single after Bog Montgomery had tripled in the second inning. He also retired 14 straight batters over one stretch and allowed only two hits in 8 1-3 innings of relief.

Meanwhile, the Sox chipped away at Baltimore's early lead and had it down to 4-3 in the seventh when Doug Griffin opened with a single and Smith and Yastrzemski followed with consecutive home runs to move Boston in front. The homers were No. 23 for Smith and No.
14 for Yaz.

While the second place Sox chopped a game off Baltimore's Eastern edge, second place
Kansas City slipped a game farther back in the non-existent Western race, bowing to Oakland's division leaders.

Gene Tenace's seventh inning homer broke a tie and gave the A's the victory over the Royals, who are now 13 1/2 games behind.

Diego Segui, 7-4, Darold Knowles and Rollie Fingers shared the four-hitter for Oakland while Ed Kirkpatrick accounted for KC's only run with a third inning homer.

Fritz Peterson gained his 10th victory of the season on a four-hitter as the Yankees whipped Cleveland.

Gene Michael cracked a two-run homer for New York as the Yanks clawed Cleveland starter Mike Paul for four runs in the fourth inning and Peterson coasted after that.

Mike Andrews, decked by the previous pitch, unloaded a three-run homer on the next one, helping Chicago whip Minnesota.

Andrews' fifth inning homer climaxed a four-run White Sox rally and came moments after he had been knocked down by Minnesota pitcher Jim Perry.

Pat Kelly also homered for Chicago.

Jim Northrup doubled home Detroit's tie-breaking run with a seventh-inning double and then knocked in another run with a single in the eighth as Detroit whipped Washington.

Northrup had made two errors at first base earlier after taking over from Norm Cash, who suffered a seven-stitch spike wound in his right leg in the first inning.

Willie Horton homered for the Senators.

Rudy May pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless ball and finished with a four-hitter, hurling California past Milwaukee.
Jose Cardenal, making his first start for the Brewers, spoiled Mays' no-hit bid with a seventh inning single.

Roger Repoz homered for the Angels.

Shorter Training Discussed

CHICAGO (AP) — A reduction of the spring training season and changes in the free agent draft will be among the subjects discussed at the major league summer baseball meeting Tuesday and Wednesday.

A joint meeting of the American and National leagues will get matters underway and then the two leagues will meet separately.

Some clubs are in favor of a shorter spring training season with less exhibition games.
Clubs favoring this move include Los Angeles, Houston, Atlanta and St. Louis.

Proposed draft changes would remove four-year college players from the secondary phase and return them to the regular phase when they become eligible.

All other secondary phase players would be subject to only one selection. Should they fail to sign with the selecting club, they would return to the regular phase.

Other items on the agenda include the level of hitting in the major leagues, clarification of the performance bonus rule, trading of contracts of unnamed players, a modified provisional setup of the major leagues and minor league realignment.

Reports also are expected from the Player Relations Committee and the Major League Baseball Promotions Corp.

PITCHING 12 Decisions —

Coach Is Against Scholarships

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —
Bill Yeoman has been down that scholarship need road before. He'll pass, thank you, on any more trips.

Yeoman, head football coach at the University of Houston, had experience with scholarship need for prospective athletes at Michigan State.

"The father of a boy had more blanks to fill out than the IRS requires," Yeoman recalled. "Some dads simply refused to fill it out."

Yeoman said a scholarship based on need looks good on the blackboard but just doesn't work in actual practice.

"It's like a football play that looks good on the board but just doesn't work in actual practice."

"It's like a football play that looks good on the board but isn't worth a darn on grass," Yeoman said.

He said some fathers refused to divulge their personal income because of a divorce in which they would have had to reveal the property settlement.

"Some kids take exception to it," Yeoman said. "They get a certain satisfaction in making their own way through college even though the father could afford it."

"It's just unrealistic and doesn't serve any purpose."

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB May Be Swelling, Ovulation

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D. Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 16 years old and have been having pains in my right side for more than a year. I went to the doctor and he said it acts like appendicitis but he's not sure. I don't usually have fever but I have vomited. He said he doesn't want to operate unless he really must. I read in one of your articles that sometimes attacks of pain not clearly appendicitis are noted before a definite attack occurs. Can this be what's happening to me? What should I do?

Dear Reader—In young girls especially, pain in the right side similar to appendicitis can be caused by ovulation. The pain is usually mid-way between periods, and is known as the middle pain. More than one girl has been operated on for appendicitis when this was the real problem.

Often the doctor has no way of telling the difference and properly concludes it is better to operate and be wrong than not operate and have a ruptured appendix. The fact that you have been having several of these episodes suggests it is not appendicitis, even if appendicitis does often have earlier indefinite attacks.

A second problem is painful swelling of lymph nodes in the abdomen, which is more common in young people and is hard to separate from appendicitis. Then there is the old problem of disturbances in the digestive tract, including irritable colon, that may cause acute pain.

You should note the relationship of your attacks to your cycle, that might help. Otherwise I think the best thing you can do is follow your doctor's advice and be glad you have one who isn't

Fashions Can Cost Less

By HELEN HENNESSY NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—As other prices zoom out of sight this is the year to choose fashions with the most dash to the dollar. Substitute advance planning for money and you can buy a dual purpose wardrobe that costs less but takes you more places.

Careful selection is the key to well-thought-out clothes with a multiplicity of fashion functions. And if you put together your own special look you'll be ahead of the game in more ways than one.

Here are some quick clothes-multiplying, money-saving tricks:

Settle for nothing but separates. They've always been wardrobe winners, but this year especially, when even one-piece dresses are often designed to look like skirt-and-shirt, —and more — buy the real thing. Limit yourself to three outfits but choose each one with at least three or more interchangeable parts. Look for combinations with vests, pants or shorts.

Insist on synthetics. Modern fibers, such as Quinest polyester or Phillips 66 nylon, are easy on the pocketbook from small saving standpoints. Money saved on dry cleaning bills over a single summer can easily pay for one item in your wardrobe. With synthetics that drip dry overnight a smaller number of clothes can be fully utilized to seem like many more.

Buy a basic. Multiple separates can be multiplied still more if you choose one group with simple lines and colors—then accessorize with scarves and jewelry. A solid color can be the perfect background for a variety of accessories. Coordinate colors first. It's easy in a rush of shopping enthusiasm to trap yourself with mix-match separates in colors too flashy to mix or match. Decide in the beginning on your color schemes and carefully buy accordingly. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

East-West vulnerable West North East South 1 N.T. Pass 3 N.T. Pass Pass Opening lead—♥ K

By Oswald & James Jacoby Put yourself in the South seat. You are in a perfectly normal three no-trump contract. It should be a laydown, since dummy has 12 high-card points opposite your 16, but the heart lead has hit you with only one stopper in the suit. You have to develop two club tricks if you want to score your game.

You hold off until the third heart lead. Then you take your ace and play a couple of rounds of diamonds before coming off dummy with the deuce of clubs. East plays the seven and you go up with your king. West shows out and, while you are over one hurdle, things look mighty bad because you can only count up to a total of eight tricks.

The only way to develop a ninth is to set up a second club and there sits East with three apparent tricks in the suit.

They are only apparent if you do a little counting. You play out the last two diamonds and East chucks two spades. He can't afford to chuck a club.

Now you know that East started with four clubs, two diamonds, three hearts, two spades and two other cards. If you have watched the play of the hearts, you can assume that these two other cards are both spades. You have a complete count. You cash the two spades and lead a club to dummy's jack. East wins the trick but is down to clubs and has to give you your ninth trick.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.) Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Lockheed Won Loan by Only Four Votes

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only four votes to spare, Congress has handed President Nixon his narrowest legislative victory by approving $250 million in loan guarantees for Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Nixon said the action is "in the best interests of the American people."

The Senate passed the legislation Monday 49 to 48. The House passed it last Friday 192 to 189.

The President, who sought the loan guarantees in the first place, said in a statement: "This action will save tens of thousands of jobs that would otherwise have been eliminated," and will help the nation's economy."

The measure provides federal backing for a loan which will come entirely from private institutions, and which Lockheed says it needs to stay solvent.

The 49th vote was cast by Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., in a moment of studied drama.

The 44-year-old Cook, who last year had cast a decisive vote against a Supreme Court nominee, left the floor shortly before the roll was called. He returned only after the clerk had passed his name on the first round.

With the vote 48-48 Cook stood quietly by his desk sipping a glass of water, waiting for the clerk to call his name and the whispering and rustling in the packed galleries to subside.

Station Control Transfer Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Transfer of control of Mullins Broadcasting Co., operator of television stations in Little Rock, Ark., and Denver, Colo., is proposed in an application announced Monday by the Federal Communications Commission. Control would be transferred from Charles A. Haskell, Max G. Brooks and Alvin G. Flanagan, executives of the state of John C. Mullins, to Combined Communications Corp.

The company operates KARK-TV in Little Rock and KBTB in Denver.

Murder Trial of Youth Is Underway

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — The selection of a jury to hear the first-degree murder trial of Joe Kagebien, 15, of DeWitt is expected to be completed today.

Nine jurors — eight men and one woman — were selected Monday from almost 100 persons questioned. Thirty more prospective jurors were expected to be called today.

Kagebien and three other DeWitt youths, Teddy Kittler, 16, Benny West, 16, and Larry L. Mannis, 17, are charged with the Nov. 7, 1970 shotgun slaying of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, 27, a Wynne rice farmer.

Wampler's body was found near the Little Texas community. He had been en route to a deer hunting camp when the shooting occurred.

All four youths were scheduled to stand trial Monday, but Circuit Judge John S. Mosby of Lepanto granted a motion by Kagebien's attorney allowing Kagebien to stand trial separately. The other youths were returned to the county jail to await completion of Kagebien's trial before going on trial.

This is the second attempt to try the youths. The first trial for all four ended in a mistrial when a jury could not be seated.

Mosby, who was appointed by the state Supreme Court to hear the trial, overruled a motion by the attorney for Kittler and Mannis asking that the judge disqualify himself in the trial because there had been no official order relieving regular Circuit Judge Joe Rhodes from the case.

Later Monday, the attorney, R. A. Eilbott of Pine Bluff, appealed Mosby's ruling to the state Supreme Court. A special panel of three justices heard Eilbott's petition Monday afternoon but denied his request to prohibit Mosby from trying the case against Kittler and Mannis.

Rhodes was selected last March to try the case and he presided over four days of interrogation of about 300 prospective jurors before declaring a mistrial earlier this year.

State Tax Take Up $3 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — General revenues for Arkansas last month increased by more than $3.5 million compared to revenues for July 1970.

The figures were $19,349,188 in July 1970 and $22,898,634 last July. The increase was spurred by jumps in collections from income and sales taxes.

Science Is Excited Over Achievements

By BILL STOCKTON
AP Science Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Detection of the deliberate crash of Apollo 15's lunar lander by moonquake meters at three widely separated points on the moon is frosting on the cake for lunar scientists.

The lunar lander Falcon's violent death late Monday was detected 30 miles away at the seismometer which David R. Scott and James B. Irwin left at the base of the Apennine Mountains where they landed earlier in Falcon. The crashed also registered 700 miles to the south on the Apollo 12 seismometer left in the Ocean of Storms in November 1969 and on the Apollo 14 seismometer left in the lunar highlands at Fra Mauro last February.

The response of the three instruments excited scientists waiting to see if it would happen.

It was the latest achievement for Apollo 15 — a mission lunar experts say may bring more fundamental knowledge about the moon than all past moon landings combined. The achievements include:

— Possible discovery of a piece of the original lunar crust.

— Samples of bedrock that might lie just beneath the moon's surface.

— Discovery of probable layering in the sides of Hadley Rille, a 1,200-foot-deep moon canyon Scott and Irwin visited.

Scientists are trying to determine how the moon was formed as a way of finding the origin of the solar system.

"That's exciting. That's just very nice," Dr. D.W. Strangway, a geophysicist at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said when the Apollo 12 and 14 instruments began recording seismic waves generated by the Falcon's crash, which equaled an explosion of more than two tons of TNT. The waves had reached the closer Apollo 15 seismometer several minutes earlier.

"It suggests you can see impacts on the moon from very, very far away. This has been a subject of considerable controversy," Strangway said.

The principal scientist working with the seismometers, Dr. Gary Latham of Columbia University's Lamont-Doherty Geological Laboratory, was studying the data last Monday and was unavailable for comment.

But before the crash he said detection by the Apollo 12 and 14 instruments would be strong evidence that present theories about the interior of the moon are correct.

These theories are that the moon's interior is a broken, crumbled material that scatters the waves intensely and the material becomes more dense with increasing depth.

Parties Agree on Price for Campaigning

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has agreed with Senate Democrats on a price for political campaigning, but their quarrel continues over the payment plan.

President Nixon conferred his blessing Monday upon a bill to limit spending by all federal candidates to 10 cents per eligible voter.

At the same time, he endorsed suspension of the broadcast industry's equal-time obligations, thus clearing a path for what could be the first debate between presidential candidates since Nixon met John F. Kennedy in 1960.

Nixon, through spokesmen who declined identification, endorsed Senate Rules Committee bill which is favored by congressional Republicans.

Arkansas Is Vice-Chairman

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Russell E. Dennis of New York was elected chairman of the American Institute of Cooperation at the opening session of the group's convention at Colorado State University here Monday.

The 1,500 delegates elected Armistead Feland of Little Rock, Ark., and Hugh W. Cox of Omaha, Neb., as vice chairmen.

Green Thumb Park Dedicated

On Saturday, August 7, the public is invited to the opening and dedication of the Lewis J. "Red" Johnson Green Thumb Park at Reader, Arkansas.

The program will start at 1:00 p.m. with music by the Green Thumb Crew from Mountain View, Arkansas and other musical organizations, and at 2:30 Mayor Edward Turner, will give the welcome address and introduce a few individuals and Senator Olen Hendrix of Prescott, who will recognize and welcome the honored guests, and after a short talk will introduce Lewis J. Johnson, Jr. who will handle the dedication ceremonies of the Lewis J. "Red" Johnson Green Thumb Park.

After these ceremonies there will be a ribbon cutting for State Highway 368 which has been recently finished to Reader and the opening of the Ouachita Highway between Chidester and Reader.

Those responsible for the success of the construction of this park are: J.W. Myrick, foreman; H.H. Cook, Warren Glass; George Hale, W.B.

Flowers and Roosevelt Simmons, and Green Thumb personnel; Lewis Johnson, National Director; Stewart Edwards, State Director; Bud Witter, State Supervisor; Ralph Barnes, County Judge Nevada County; Alfred Stinnett, County Judge Ouachita County; and Ed Turner, Mayor of Reader.

Rides on the Reader Railroad, which is a regular scheduled common carrier will be operated from 3:30 courtesy of Mr. Tom Long, President, until each and every one who desires has ridden the Possum Trot Train. There will be ice cream and cakes on the grounds courtesy of Ouachita Valley Dairy and the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Camden.

National President Tony DeChant, Farmers Union, will be a guest at the dedication.

To get to the park out of Camden you turn right after Chidester Highway 368 and out of Prescott and other points west you travel Highway 24 to the intersection 368.

More Data But Less Understanding

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Riley says that too often the mass communications media seem satisfied to convey mere information, rather than understanding.

"They inform without adding the quality of understanding and objectivity," Riley said in an interview. "The press hasn't availed itself of many new thrusts it might explore to see how it could do a better job."

Riley said he intended his remarks as constructive suggestion and not criticism.

"I realize the press is sensitive after the affairs of the Pentagon Papers and the attempt to censure CBS in Congress," he said. "I agree as our own elected representatives did that the news media should all be left free so they will not be encumbered or fettered by government supervision."

Vote Against Lockheed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. J. W. Fulbright and John L. McClellan, both D-Ark., voted Monday against a bill authorizing $250 million in loan guarantees to Lockheed Aircraft Corp.
